Wild Rift Esports Player & Team Tier Definition

Tiers	Purpose	Scale	Tier Definition
Tier 1	Competing to be the best. Players are inspired to compete at the top level	Professional leagues and global tournaments E.g. Worlds, regional leagues and competitions Highly professionalized organizations and top-tier productions; Healthy compensation, large prize pools	Participated and advanced through any Riot Games SEA Official Wild Rift esports tournament's Open Qualifiers
Collegiate*	Competing to become a Tier 1 player Players look up to top players and want to follow their path	Collegiate & campus competitions E.g. Academy tournaments, inter-college tournaments Professional environment with good-quality productions Optional compensation, moderate prize pools	Participated in any Riot Games SEA Official Wild Rift Collegiate esports tournament
Amateur	Competing with the community Players socially compete in structured format	3rd-party competitions, grassroots competitions E.g. Community tournaments, Branded Tournaments Structured tournaments with small scale productions; Small prize pools	Any player participating in community or grass root competitions

Players & teams defined by one of these tiers are mutually exclusive from each other. In other words, players & teams defined as Tier 1 will not be allowed to participate in Amateur Tier or Collegiate Tier competitions. Only players playing more than 50% of the team's total matches in the tournament upon qualifying for a tier will be granted the new tier definition.

*Tournaments held for high-school participants are not considered Collegiate Tournaments

General

We love competition, and encourage players and organizations to organize and host their own. We support folks that create competitions for the benefit of the community and we're generally on board with any competition that follows the guidelines outlined below.

The rules for the competition should promote a fun and engaging experience for the players, and skill should be the determining factor of who will win or lose matches in the competition; and we may take action if your competition promotes or represents anything contrary to our values, the interpretation and application of which is in our sole discretion.

Community Tournaments, Esports Team Community Tournaments, Branded Tournaments

1. The duration of your tournament should be a maximum of 60 days. Individual tournaments cannot award points or serve as qualifiers to another tournament or lead up to a final; all events must be clearly stand-alone competitions.

Tier 1 Tournaments and Collegiate Tournaments

1. The duration of your tournament must be approved by Riot Games.

Definition of Community Organizer

1. A community organizer is a not-for-profit organization or individual looking to host a tournament for the player community.
2. The stated goal of these events is to create engagement and experiences for a player community.
3. For the sake of clarity, a community organizer is not:
 - a. An advertising or event agency
 - b. An FMCG, telecom or any other consumer or B2B brand
 - c. Broadcast platform or media owner e.g. streaming website or app, television broadcaster
 - d. Tournament platform
4. Examples of community organizers:
 - a. Youth club
 - b. Secondary school club
 - c. Team fan club
 - d. Charity organization
 - e. An esports or tournament organizer

VIII. Riot Games' Rights to Content

All Tournaments

1. In consideration of Riot granting you the Community competition License, you agree that we can choose to promote your competition, and may use the results of your competition to qualify players for Riot sponsored competitions; and
2. Additionally, by operating or sponsoring a competition using the Community competition License you agree to license to Riot, for free and forever, any rights that you may have in the broadcasted content, highlights, video, still content, news, and all other content generated by the competition for us to copy, modify, distribute, or publicly display such content, or to sublicense those rights as we see fit.

IX. Other Legal Stuff

All Tournaments

1. It is your responsibility (and the responsibility of any sponsors or other third parties involved with your competition) to comply with all applicable laws and regulations for your competition, as well as all our policies, as may be amended from time to time. If there is not a right granted in another Riot policy, the right does not exist; and
2. The competition must comply with all applicable laws and regulations, as well as all policies of any third party service you are using to stream or broadcast your competition.

On the condition that you follow all of the guidelines described in this policy (the "Guidelines"), our Legal Jibber Jabber, and our Terms of Service, Riot Games, Inc. ("Riot", "we", or "us") grants you a personal, non-exclusive, non-sublicensable, non-transferable, revocable, limited license ("Community competition License") for you to organize and operate a Wild Rift competition (the "competition"), but we may take action or otherwise shut down any competition at any time if we decide it violates or misinterprets these guidelines, our Terms of Service, or any of our other policies, promotes or represents anything contrary to our Values, or otherwise uses our intellectual property ("IP") inappropriately.

Tier-determining factors may vary per region. Please work with the Riot Office in your region to ensure compliance.

X. Definitions

The following definitions include both “direct” (held in one’s own name or through an entity controlled by the individual) and “indirect” (exercised control through another individual or entity) control and ownership. These definitions should be construed broadly.

1.1. Employee - An Individual who works for an Esports Organization or for an Individual or for an Organization that has Voting Control or Operational Control or is an Owner of an Esports Organization, in a role that either provides services to the Esports Organization or supervises (i.e. has Operational Control of) Individuals or a department that provides services to an Esports Organization.

1.2. Esports Organization or Pro-team - An Individual or Organization that operates a League Team.

1.3. Individual - A natural person.

1.4. League - the Wild Rift official esports tournaments; or any successor or replacement of any of the foregoing, however named or branded.

1.5. League Team - A team that plays in a League.

1.6. Operational Control - Controlling, or having power to determine, the functioning, management or administration of an Organization or some aspect of the Organization, by, for example, making hiring or firing decisions or strategic decisions for the Organization or through holding the authority to fire, discipline, promote, demote or affect the compensation, bonuses and/or benefits of any Employee.

1.7. Organization - A group of Individuals or an entity (whether incorporated or otherwise) that is organized for some end or work.
